

CONVEYANCING

HOLZWORTH LEGAL

What is Conveyancing?

The term Conveyancing is defined as the process of transferring ownership of a property from one person to another person. At Holzworth Legal we have highly experienced legal staff to help guide you through the process of buying or selling while ensuring your interests are protected. We act in a wide variety of matters including:

- Residential purchase,
- Residential sales, and
- Related party transactions.

When to consider engaging a conveyancer?

We recommend engaging our services before you sign a Contract of Sale. We can advise whether there are any amendments or special conditions that may need to be inserted into the Contract prior to signing.

If you have already signed a Contract of Sale, we recommend seeking legal advice from us prior to the ending of the cooling-off period so that any required amendments can be made. If you are unsure of when the cooling-off period ends, contact our office immediately for advice.

Why choose Holzworth Legal?

We are a small, specialised team of dedicated legal professionals who prides ourselves on the quality of our work, and the support that we provide to our clients. Our conveyancing rates are affordable, without compromising on quality or experience.

We are here to guide you through the process, to make it a stress-free and smooth experience while keeping you informed every step of the way.
